Norwegian Trumpeter Kai Robert Celebrates 11th Midwest Tour Snorre Lodge of Sons of Norway hosts concert

Join Snorre Lodge of Sons of Norway Wednesday, Sept. 30, 8:00 p.m. at Northland Community & Technical College Auditorium, 1101 Hwy. #1 East, Thief River Falls, for an amazing and entertaining evening as it welcomes one of the Upper Midwest's favorite Norwegian entertainers, Kai Robert Johansen, trumpeter extraordinaire from Sarpsborg, Norway in Østfold, who is celebrating his eleventh Upper Midwest concert tour.

"The Upper Midwest Norwegian-American community has always supported me," said Kai Robert, "and I love it here! I am very impressed with the way you celebrate your heritage and the friendship you offer to others."

Kai Robert has been performing for 45 years. He has been seen on radio and TV not only in Norway but throughout Europe and the United States. He has released 57 albums, several of which reached gold and platinum record status and has written several musical tributes to the Norwegian royal family. He has also received several Norwegian cultural awards for his work as not only a musician, but as a composer.

Kai Robert's hometown of Sarpsborg celebrates 1,000 years July 29 - 31, 2016. Founded by St. Olav at Sarpsfossen, the largest waterfall in Europe, the city offers the grandeur of the Viking Age. Come and celebrate with modern day Vikings through food, music, tours and theatre. For more information, contact leslee.sarping@gmail.com and/ or visit www.sarpsborg2016.no.

NELL presents; The Last Keeper at Split Rock Lighthouse

Mike Roberts

Just before Christmas 1968, Mike Roberts turned off the light at Split Rock Lighthouse. Little did he know that the light would never shine again for the mariners from this iconic Lake Superior National Landmark. He was the last US Coast Guard duty officer to serve at the lighthouse. Using a combination of video, lecture, photos and props, Mike will share stories of life at Split Rock, of the circumstances that led him to join the Coast Guard as well as some of his experiences in search and rescue adventures. Mike will also tell some of the stories of the Great Lakes - including shipwrecks like the Edmund Fitzgerald and the Daniel J. Morrell.

This free program will be held at HOPE Lutheran Church 508 Foss Ave. N. in Fosston (note change from previously announced location) at 9:30 am on Wednesday September 23.

For more information contact NELL coordinator Tamara Edvold 218-694-2856 (evenings)

44th Annual Blast to Brooks celebration

During the Pig Races, there was a Frozen T-Shirt contest. Eleven contestants were line up around the ring and given a frozen t-shirt in a baggy and the person had to open up and put on the ice cold t-shirt.

Most of the Frozen T-Shirt contest didn't have too much trouble getting their t-shirts unfolded, but one gal was not getting anywhere with hers. Brooks Council person Jess Determan started helping her and it was a real tug-o-war.

There were rows of great old classic cars lined up at the Brooks Park.

Great Northern Radio Show going 'back to school'

Variety program to broadcast live from Bemidji State University Sept. 19

The next Great Northern Radio Show will broadcast live from the Bangsberg Theater at Bemidji State University on Saturday, Sept. 19, 2015. This traveling variety program produced by Northern Community Radio of Grand Rapids and Bemidji explores life in small towns and off-the-beaten-path places through comedy, stories and music.

Producer and host Aaron Brown leads a regular cast along with guest performers, musicians, and storytellers in a two hour romp through local legend and real life, celebrating the talent and culture of northern Minnesota. Each show seeks to celebrate its unique location and the people who make it special for a much wider audience.

"This is a homecoming show for us," said Brown, an author and blogger from the Iron Range. "We are kicking off our fifth season in the home of 90.5 KBXE, one of the studio and transmitter locations of Northern Community Radio. It's our first show at Bemidji State, but we are excited to be visiting old friends and neighbors in Beltrami County."

"This is one of the best line-ups we've put together. It really has something for everyone, and will be a good reminder of what's great about living in Northern Minnesota."

Featured performers include country rockers the American Scarecrows, Bemidji-based bluesman Corey Medina and his band, Red Lake hip hop act Thomas X, local folk musician Berit Dybing and other surprises. The Great Northern Radio Players, including Bemidji's own Sara Breeze, C.J. Anderson and Lauren Nickisch of Pequot Lakes and local guest performers Rachel Brandt, Mark Christensen, Diamond Knispel and Robert Saxton will join guests Bemidji Mayor Rita Albrecht and BSU professor Tim Goodwin. Comedians Rob Fairbanks of the "Rez Report" and Jon Roberts will also be featured in the show.

The program airs live on KAXE/KBXE at 5 p.m. Saturday, September 19. Tickets cost $10 for adults, but are free for children and college students with IDs. Audience must be in their seats by 4:30. Seating is limited. Call to order tickets in advance at 800-662-5799 or see www.kaxe.org.

5 ways to get kids excited to learn

Many kids love the prospect of learning, while others may need a bit of motivation. But parents can get kids on board with a little encouragement and creativity to make learning fun. Here are some ideas to get kids excited to learn.

Library Visits - By making a run-of-the-mill trip to the library seem like a true adventure, kids will associate books with intrigue at an impressionable age. The librarian can point out the best titles for inspiring learning and fun. Time visits to occur during your local branch's storytelling hour or other early childhood programming. Also, be sure to sign your child up for a personal library card, which will be a source of pride at the circulation desk and put them on the path of reading enrichment.

Learning Tablets - To give kids an extra edge in learning, consider a fun yet educational tablet. Durable enough for kids, most devices have a multi-touch screen, and can feature progressive learning content that adapts to a child's age. Web access and communication apps, which kids can use to exchange messages with friends and family, are limited to protect children, and parents are free to manage these controls.

Board Game Night - After dinner, gather round the table a second time. From classic word games that challenge one to stretch the limits of his or her vocabulary, to trivia games testing science and world history knowledge, board games have the potential to bring the family together and also to educate. Be sure to check the box for age-appropriate guidance.

Wearable Tech - Wearable technology can inspire kids to learn and be creative while staying active. For example, a smartwatch can offer motion-activated games, a stopwatch, calendar, 3D clock face and calculator so kids can work out simple math problems. They can also include a time-telling app that helps kids learn to tell time. The internal memory on such devices also offers ample storage for budding photographers and videographers documenting the world around them.

Sweeten the Deal - Consider creating a rewards chart where children can track their progress as they meet learning goals. It can be an effective way to motivate kids to try new ways of learning and work hard to reach a goal. You can find many free downloadable charts online. More ideas can be found at www.vtechkids.com/parenting.

To make learning a priority in your home, get kids on board. They'll be inspired when they see that learning can be fun.

Theology in the Trenches

Show Time...Shoe Time

Summer was busy. New baby...check. Travel completed...check. Son getting married...

Before driving the distance in order to arrive on time to our son's wedding, we began making sure all was in order. New skirt for me...check. New top for me...check. New shoes for me...check. So far so good...all was looking good in order to look good for the wedding.

Old suit for hubby...check. Old shirt for hubby...check. Old shoes for hubby...? "So what happened to the two pairs of black shoes that were in the entry?" he asked. Only one pair remained and trust me when I say this, they were not looking good.

"Did you put the other pair somewhere?" We pointedly pondered aloud to one another.

"Not I," said I.

"Not I," said he.

We began searching in earnest discussing the possibilities of their whereabouts. It was zero hour and we needed to leave. At this point he had no other choice than to try on the old beasts that sat before us. He sat down to do just that. I waited and watched, and after several minutes, broke the silence. "Do they fit?"

"Sort of." In dad language it meant: Yes they do, I'm going to wear them, and I am not going to spend any money on something I will only wear once in a while...so let's get going.

My facial expression must have conveyed the horror before me because he quickly offered, "I can buff them up. That will make them look better."

A quick text brought clarity as number two son confessed to snagging the good pair we'd been searching for and so it goes. Man to man nobody cared. Woman to man, no man wanted to hear it. And man to woman, there was only one option because he was in the driver's seat...literally.

Into the car the shoes were tossed, and off we went. Upon our arrival a bit more discussion ensued, and he took it upon himself to look into the possibility of purchasing a different pair. Off he trotted to make the investment. When he returned with no package in hand, the dad talk began once again. "I'm not paying seventy bucks for a pair of shoes!"

And...he didn't. And...no-body noticed. And...the wedding went off without a hitch.

Matthew agrees. "Why are you worried about clothing? But if God so clothes the grass of the field will He not so much more clothe you? Your heavenly Father knows seek first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things will be added unto you." Dad language well spoken. Amen.

THANK YOU!

Ask a Trooper

by Sgt. Neil Dickenson of the Minnesota State Patrol

Question: Has the law requiring vehicles operated on roadways to have sound suppression devices (mufflers) been changed?

I see vehicles with straight pipes, motorcycles with straight pipes and hear many others that sound as if they have no suppression.

If the law is there why is it not enforced?

Answer: The law has not changed. This is what the Minnesota State Statute 169.69 states: "Every motor vehicle shall at all times be equipped with a muffler in good working order which blends the exhaust noise into the overall vehicle noise and is in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise, and no person shall use a muffler cutout, bypass, or similar device upon a motor vehicle on a street or highway. The exhaust system shall not emit or produce a sharp popping or crackling sound. Every motor vehicle shall at all times be equipped with such parts and equipment so arranged and kept in such state of repair as to prevent carbon monoxide gas from entering the interior of the vehicle. No person shall have for sale, sell or offer for sale or use on any motor vehicle any muffler that fails to comply with the specifications as required by the commissioner of public safety."

The law does not specifically answer how loud a motorized vehicle can be, but it does say that a vehicle must have a good working muffler that prevents "excessive or unusual noise." So any cutouts or bypasses, straight pipes or rusted out mufflers and exhaust with holes are all illegal. After market mufflers, sometimes called "glass packs" or "cherry bombs," can be an issue as they may produce "a sharp popping or crackling sound."

Some counties and cities have local noise ordinances. Some of these cover the amount of noise, duration of noise, and source sound other than ambient noise that affect residents. A noise ordinance defines which sounds are and are not acceptable at any given time so that residents can live comfortably with the sounds that they hear. Some of these are effective during certain times of the day, usually applying at night. So depending on where you live, I would check with the local authorities on their ordinances.

I know that this law is enforced and we do our best to educate the public on traffic safety and equipment violations through education and enforcement.

A portion of state statutes were used with permission from the Office of the Revisor of Statutes. If you have any questions concerning traffic related laws or issues in Minnesota, send your questions to Sgt. Neil Dickenson - Minnesota State Patrol at 1131 Mesaba Ave, Duluth, MN 55811. (You can follow me on Twitter @MSPPIO_NE or reach me at neil.dickenson@state.mn.us).

DNR predicts spectacular fall color season

To help travelers plan their fall hikes, bike rides, paddling trips and scenic drives to coincide as closely as possible with peak color, staff at Minnesota state parks and recreation areas will update an online fall color finder every Thursday, starting Sept. 10.

This online trip-planning tool includes a map showing where to find peak color across the state, a link to fall color programs and special events, a slideshow and a photo uploader that provides an easy way for people to share their favorite fall color images.

“Current weather conditions indicate we’re on track for a great fall color year,” said Patricia Arndt, communications and outreach manager for the Department of Natural Resources Parks and Trails Division. “With the exception of dry weather in northeastern Minnesota, most of the state has had close to or above-average precipitation, making for healthy, green trees going into fall. If we continue to have adequate rainfall as nights become longer, the autumn display should be spectacular.”

A “Colors of the Prairie” program at Afton State Park (Sept. 12), a “Million Shades of Autumn” geocaching event at William O’Brien State Park (Sept. 19), a lantern-lit hike at Itasca State Park (Sept. 26), and a guided bike ride along the Luce Line State Trail (Oct. 10) are just some of the many upcoming programs naturalists have planned.

These and other family-oriented fall color programs are listed in the 2015 “Fall Sampler” brochure available at Minnesota state parks and recreation areas, at Twin Cities libraries and at metro area outdoor retail stores. The DNR Information Center will also mail the brochure to anyone who requests it. Fall programs can also be found online.

Colors typically peak between mid-September and early October in the northern third of Minnesota, between late September and early October in the central third, and between late September and mid-October in the southern third (which includes the Twin Cities). Peak fall color typically lasts about two weeks, but that can vary widely, depending on location, elevation and weather. Trees at higher elevations are the earliest to show color change.

For smart phone and tablet users, the DNR offers fall colors “to go” on a mobile fall color finder integrated with Google maps. To access the mobile version, scan the QR code at <http://mndnr.gov/mobile> or visit the website and bookmark the site.

A vehicle permit is required for entrance to Minnesota state parks and recreation areas. Anyone who purchases a $5 one-day permit can exchange it for $5 off a year-round permit later the same day. Year-round permits, $25, provide unlimited access to all 75 Minnesota state parks and recreation areas for a full year from the month of purchase.
