Local artists receive recognition and awards

Debbie Dahl Aune, of Gatzke, was named Artist of the Year.

Debbie Dahl Aune is Artist of the Year

The Northwest Minnesota Arts Council is pleased to announce that Debbie Dahl Aune of Gatzke is the Northwest Artist of the Year for Visual Arts. This award was presented on Sunday, April 30th, at the Middle River Legacy Center.

Aune is a visual artist who works in many mediums. She is the Art Teacher at the Greenbush Middle River Public School, as well as the Greenbush Middle River Art Club Advisor, a frequent art project presenter at the Creativity Festival in Bemidji, and a community ed instructor. She has entered and placed often in the annual NW Minnesota Art Exhibit, receiving merit, second, first, and People's Choice awards. Finally, Aune has exhibited her work in many NW-MAC themed exhibits, including several solo shows. Last year Debbie was featured on a MPR (Minnesota Public Radio) segment and in a Prairie Mosaic video on Prairie Public Television.

Aune received a BS in Art Education from Bemidji State University and has taken graduate course work at several institutions, allowing her to study under many well-known artists.

Aune said "My biggest joy is watching children and adults find their inner artist." When asked what she enjoys about creating art, she stated, "The personal side. The connection with the people, the place. Doing a piece for someone and they love it."

Susan Hougen Lieberg explained, "Debbie's gift as an art teacher is that she is an artist, a true artist. She can find inspiration in anything, and she finds so much in her students. Just like her paintings invite viewers into the scenes she's created, she also invites her students into the creative process -- all the bumps and warts and making lemonade out of lemons. Almost magically, her students tap into themselves to create beautiful works of art: woodcuts, watercolors, sculptures, portraits, and more... Aune's artwork delivers joy to so many."

Greenbush Middle River Superintendent Larry Gugisberg shared, "During her nearly three decades as an art teacher, Debbie has single-handedly developed arts programs for the entire K-12 program in the GMR School District. Over the years, her experience at making contacts and savvy at securing funding for arts programs has been invaluable and has touched the lives of students. Without her successful efforts and dedication, our students would not receive the exposure to the Arts as they have. Mrs. Aune has kept Visual Arts in this northwest Minnesota school at the forefront."

Finally, KayDell Super explained "The most important aspect of Deb's artistic skills is her ability to spread the love of art to her students and everyone around her. Her enthusiasm for art, creative possibilities, and life in general radiates as soon as she steps in the room. During her tenure as art teacher, hundreds of students have been encouraged to pursue their love of art -- and those that were unsure, left her program with the love of art in their hearts. Deb has not kept her talents to herself -- her community has benefitted and been enriched with not only her final artistic works, but with her creative ideas and energy to improve the community with these ideas and leadership."

Aune is passionate about painting outdoors. She explained, "I take care of my personal side with painting en plein air. A painter can go on an en plein air event. It doesn't cost much. Join others. Get out there. You are outside. There is no better place to paint."

She encourages everyone to give art a try. "Elementary is where you get the most bang for your buck. If you are in high school, take those art classes. There are workshops. Many are available for no cost. Don't be scared to jump right in."

The Artist of the Year award can be given to any discipline artist including visual, performing, or creative writing who are emerging or at a midway point in their artistic endeavors. It is a cash award of $500. Funding for the Northwest Artist of the Year comes from The McKnight Foundation. Three awards are given each year to recognize artists and arts advocates within our seven-county region who stand out in terms of artistry or volunteerism in the arts. Of the Year Award winners were nominated by area residents.

Local Grygla & Goodridge students have pieces headed to the Capitol

A couple of local students who had artwork on display at the Northwest Minnesota Arts Council Exhibit have also received great honors.

Mollie Lunsetter (Grygla High School) and Carter Lee Johnsrud (Goodridge High School) both have pieces that were selected to be sent down to the State Capitol where they will be displayed for a year in Mark Johnson's Senate hallway.

Mollie Lunsetter's piece, Blue Sky Blading, is shown below. Carter Lee Johnsrud is pictured holding her drawing, Masking, which will be displayed at the Capitol. Carter received 1st place in the Student Division of the NWMAC exhibit for this drawing; she was also voted the People's Choice Award. Carter's watercolor painting of a jellyfish, Hidden Beauty, was selected as a piece that will travel on a local library tour.

Northwest Minnesota Art Exhibit winners announced

The Northwest Minnesota Arts Council is excited to announce the Northwest Minnesota Art Exhibit Winners. Student and adult artists residing in a seven-county region including Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Polk, Pennington, Roseau and Red Lake recently entered into the Northwest Minnesota Art Exhibit and competed for $2,300 in cash awards. The winners were recognized at the Northwest Minnesota Artist Reception in Middle River on April 30.

Exhibit cash award winners were chosen while the exhibit was on display at the Middle River Legacy Center, 335 4th Street, Middle River, by qualified juror and Project Director of the Miikanan Gallery at the Watermark Art Center in Bemidji, Karen Goulet. She offered, "This art exhibition was wonderful to jury. It was challenging to make final selections for the art awards, as there were so many interesting and well-made works of art. As a curator and juror, I have criteria in making final decisions that reflect on innovation, content, and advancing craft. Creative courage is what moves arts and artists forward and keeps the arts invigorated. I can say that if there had been two more awards to give in each group this would have been easier for me to do."

I am particularly impressed with how many schools were represented in the exhibit. I know it has not been easy for the arts in the last few years because of the pandemic, and budget challenges. Art is something that makes the world better. There must be dedication by teachers and students to keep creating. I could see this dedication in the variety of work that was submitted.

Rural artists do not always have the same opportunities to be seen as are available in urban areas. The talent I saw in this exhibit reinforces my belief that rural arts are thriving. Whether artists can work full time, or they need to make around other commitments, the quality of the work is so impressive. Juried art exhibitions are subjective to the selection criteria of the juror. Each year is another opportunity to have work recognized and seen. I hope the artists in this exhibit will keep submitting work and seek other venues for their talent to be seen."

Student winners

- 1st Place $300 Carter Lee Johnsrud of Goodridge for mixed media "Masking"
- 2nd Place $150 Andrew Glad of Greenbush for Other Folk Art "Vincent"
- 3rd Place $100 Geneva Gartner of Fertile in sculpture "Moth"

Charger Kindness Day

Charger Kindness day is coming up on May 16th. This is where Grygla students help with spring clean-up projects around Grygla. If there is anyone living in town that needs help tackling these projects, please call Tausha or Brenna at the Grygla School 218-294-6155. Please call to sign up by May 12th. This is especially great for those who could use a lending hand or extra man power. The school will assign a group of age-appropriate kids to help with your project.

Skime-area rummage sales

Skime-area area rummage sale day coming up on Saturday, May 6th, beginning at 8am. Many multiple family rummage sales in the area. Bethesda Church will also be hosting a bake sale, crafts, and lunch (eat-in or to-go). Rummage sale locations: Abrahamsons, Bethesda Church, D and ML Skime, Englund, Eric Morey, Golden Valley Hall, Lorensens, Samantha & Steven Olson, Solbergs, Tabitha & John Olson.
