Mystery Theater at Clearbrook-Gonvick school November 2

The Clearbrook-Gonvick Volleyball Team and Music Department are teaming up to present the fundraising event of the season! On November 2, a “mystery dinner theatre” will take place in the stage/commons area of the CG School. A three course dinner will be served by members of the volleyball team.

Dinner music will be provided by music department students who are preparing solos for this year's solo contest. As our audience enjoys their meal, CG students will be presenting the mystery, “Cookies and Crime”. Not only will the audience be entertained, but they will have the opportunity to “vote” for their choice of murder suspect in the play! (The title of the play is a hint as to the dessert that will be served as the final course of the evening.) Tickets are now on sale for $20 each, which includes the meal and entertainment for the evening. Tickets are available from any volleyball player, music student, or by calling the music office at 218-776-3112 ext. 500.

Proceeds from the project will benefit the volleyball program and student access-to-the-arts programs. A Thrivent Action Team Grant is helping to support the project costs. The event begins at 6:30 p.m.

Landowners asked to help keep snow off local roads this winter

As farmers prepare to harvest their crops this fall, they should consider leaving a few rows of standing corn to help control blowing and drifting snow, as well as improve visibility, on Minnesota roads this winter, according to the Minnesota Department of Transportation.

MnDOT pays farmers to leave standing corn rows, hay bales or silage bags to protect selected state roads. Farmers are compensated per acre for leaving standing corn rows and per lineal foot for strategically stacked bales or silage bags. A typical standing corn row treatment is about a ¼ mile long and one acre in size, with 12 rows of corn left standing. Average compensation to the landowner is about $1,000 per acre.

This “living snow fence” can be designed and constructed to fit into individual land use and farming operations. Ears of corn are allowed to be harvested by families, clubs, organizations and church groups.

“Standing corn rows provide a unique opportunity to use a resource already being grown adjacent to our highways to provide blowing snow control,” said Dan Gullickson, MnDOT's snow control program coordinator. “They help MnDOT quickly deliver snow control treatments while reducing the state's snow and ice removal costs.”

It takes less than two weeks to have a signed agreement between the farmer and the local MnDOT district office.

In a recent survey, conducted by the University of Minnesota Extension, farmers who participated in MnDOT's standing corn row program were asked why they took part in the program. In many cases participants recognized that blowing snow was a problem on their roads in the winter and saw the benefits of the program. Respondents often mentioned that they felt good about doing something that helped their community by providing a “safe zone” on the highways along their fields.

One respondent to the survey said, “We get a lot of compliments from people. Businessmen, nurses and teachers all use that road to get across town. They appreciate the clearer driving. They are especially grateful if there is a big storm.”

“The standing corn row program provides opportunities for leadership in, and service to, the community by helping keep local roads open to traffic during snow events,” said Gullickson. “This program is a great example of the rural community coming together and making a difference during the winter driving season.”

Last winter MnDOT's Twin Cities Metro District successfully recruited farmers along the Highway 169 corridor near Belle Plaine to leave 4.34 miles of standing corn rows.

“This is the first time that a corridor approach to managing blowing snow along this plow route was achieved,” said Tony Johnson, Shakopee Truck Station supervisor, who led the Highway 169 recruitment efforts. “We're glad to see that it will be matched again for the 2017-2018 winter.”

Mrs. Darcy Hegg, the new First Grade teacher at Clearbrook-Gonvick, is related to former owners of the Drive Inn in Clearbrook. Art and Mavis Hegg are her in-laws.

Welcome to Clearbrook-Gonvick new teacher Mrs. Darcy Hegg

Mrs. Darcy Hegg is the new first grade teacher at Clearbrook-Gonvick elementary. She grew up on a cattle ranch North Dakota and ended up at a school in McIntosh, South Dakota due to the weather. She currently lives in Clearbrook with her husband. She has three sons, six grandchildren, and a dog named Duke. She has taught for 15 years!

Mrs. Hegg got her start at teaching when she taught Sunday school while she was in high school. She went off to college after high school but did not believe that she could become a teacher so she opened a daycare in Ada, Minnesota. A flood had taken her day care away so she went back to college and attended the University of Minnesota, Crookston campus. After ten years of teaching, Darcy received a Master's Degree of Education in Curriculum and Instruction.

Mrs. Hegg hopes to get to know each of her students and help them discover the gift of learning. She also hopes to bring her commitment to enhance her students love and learning.

Clearbrook-Gonvick School Awarded Arts Council Grants

The Clearbrook-Gonvick School is the recipient of two Arts Access Grants awarded by the Region 2 Area Arts Council. The first grant will help fund travel costs for grades 3-6 to travel to the Ordway Center for the Performing Arts in February where they will get the opportunity to experience one of the Ordway's Education Concerts.

The second grant will help to fund an artist residency/concert by the “Copper Street Brass” which will be in our school working with students and performing for the community this coming spring.

The school was commended by the grant review board for the quality of its grant proposals. It is indeed exciting to have these opportunities accessible for our students, the communities of Clearbrook-Gonvick, and the surrounding area. These activities are made possible by the voters of Minnesota, through a grant from the Region 2 Arts Council, thanks to a legislative appropriation from the Arts and Cultural Heritage Fund.

State Grants Fund On-Farm Livestock Improvements

St. Paul, MN - Livestock producers may apply for a portion of $1.9 million in Livestock Investment Grants. Funds are provided by the Minnesota Department of Agriculture's (MDA) Agricultural Growth, Research and Innovation (AGRI) Program and may be used for on-farm improvements.

“Livestock Investment Grants help farmers stay competitive and reinvest in their industry,” said MDA Commissioner Dave Frederickson. “Last year, 105 livestock farmers received grants to improve their operations.”

With Livestock Investment funds awarded during the 2017 fiscal year, Jordan Daugherty of Raymond purchased feeding and fencing equipment, which will enable him to raise more sheep.

In Hartland, Brady Jensen used grant funds to construct a 2,400 head swine facility to increase profitability and allow a young farmer to start farming full time.

Joseph Hemmesch of Paynesville used the grant funds to update a manure pit and feeding equipment and add more stalls to his barn. These improvements will help grow his dairy herd and protect the environment.

Qualifying producers are reimbursed 10 percent of the first $500,000 of investment, with a minimum investment of $4,000. Qualifying expenditures include the purchase, construction or improvement of livestock buildings or facilities. Fencing, feeding and waste management equipment are also eligible. Producers who suffered a loss due to natural disaster may also apply. The grant will not pay for livestock, land purchases or debt refinancing. Projects must begin after January 1, 2018.

Past applicants who did not receive an award must reapply for the 2018 program. Applications for beginning farmers, farmers transitioning into livestock, and those with a positive environmental impact receive priority. Details and grant guidelines are available at www.mda.state.mn.us/livestockinvestmentgrant.

The application deadline is December 15, 2017. Please apply online: <http://www.mda.state.mn.us/grants/grants/~media/Files/grants/ag03150ligx.pdf>.

Ending Clean Power Plan paves way for cheaper electricity, growth

Americans for Limited Government President Rick Manning today issued the following statement praising EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt for announcing that the Obama so-called Clean Power Plan is being withdrawn:

"The new and existing coal power plant rules under the Clean Power Plan was the Obama administration's key to the war on coal, resulting in plant shutdowns across the country including the Ohio River Valley. EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt's announcement that the Clean Power Plan will be ended opens the door for investment in coal-fired electricity generation. In order for the U.S. manufacturing to grow and thrive, the availability of inexpensive and reliable electricity is a must. Ending the Clean Power Plan, including all of its regulations, brings us one step closer to making America's economy great again."

Zebra mussel larvae confirmed in Garfield Lake in Hubbard County

An independent laboratory has confirmed zebra mussel larvae in Garfield Lake in Hubbard County.

The lab provided photos of two zebra mussel larvae, called veligers, found in a water sample taken from the lake. Property owners on Garfield Lake hired the lab as part of their own monitoring. Invasive species specialists from the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources found no zebra mussels in the lake during a six-hour dive survey.

Garfield Lake will be added to the Infested Waters List for zebra mussels, with the provision that it may be removed from the list if future surveys continue to show no zebra mussels in the lake.

Whether or not a lake is listed as infested, Minnesota law requires boaters and anglers to:

- Clean watercraft of aquatic plants and prohibited invasive species,
- Drain all water by removing drain plugs and keeping them out during transport, and
- Dispose of unwanted bait in the trash.

October Spotlight on Support Staff:

"Coming together is a beginning, staying together is progress, and working together is success." – Henry Ford

LeeAnn Vettleson is in her fourth year of employment with the Clearbrook-Gonvick school system. She spent the first two years working as an Administrative Assistant/Testing Data person and is now the Human Resources contact.

LeeAnn was born and raised in Montana. She grew up with great role models for parents. Her dad was the local sheriff and her mom was employed by the school as the assistant cook, junior class sponsor, and drama coach. She moved to Minnesota in 1998. She married her husband, Travis in 1999. Together they have two sons: Cody, 11th grade, and Brett, 8th grade.

Why did you choose to work in a school?
When I lived in Montana, I enjoyed working with kids in my previous jobs, so after working at a local bank for 15 years I felt it was time to be surrounded by something that I missed and truly enjoy being around...THE KIDS! They help you discover the world all over again.

What did you do before coming to Clearbrook-Gonvick? I worked as a Loan Officer at one of our local banks for 15 years. Before moving to Minnesota I worked at my home town bank, subbed and coach at my home town school, and I was the local lifeguard during the summers, as well. Prior to that, I worked at a YMCA as a Pool Supervisor.

What is the best part of your job at Clearbrook-Gonvick? Being around my two sons and being able to experience things that I would have missed out on if I was working somewhere else.

What is the biggest challenge of your job? TIME! I always need more time!

If you could have any job in the world - what would it be? Why? To be honest with you. I have that job now-- it's called motherhood. But if I have to pick a field of study, I would have been a geologist; I love to discover and learn about new and old things.

What do you do when you are not working at the school? Hanging out with my family, doing whatever comes to our minds that day.

What would your perfect day consist of doing? Getting up going for a walk first thing in the morning to start my day (just me and nature), getting a massage, eating out (so I don't have to cook), read books on homeopathic remedies, watching documentaries, and most of all being with my husband and kids.

What are your favorite aspects of the Clearbrook-Gonvick community? I come from a small town and my husband and I wanted to raise our sons in a small community. We open enrolled our boys in Clearbrook-Gonvick School because we love this area and we believe this school is the best choice for our boys. Small communities have such a togetherness. When I first moved here from Montana, I was welcomed so openly and wholeheartedly that I would like to pay it forward for someone else.

And now a comment or two about LeeAnn from the staff: “LeeAnn is an awesome team player and a lot of fun to work with! She is always willing to go above and beyond to help a coworker or a student. I believe she is a true asset to our school because of her dedication and all the long hours and hard work she puts in for us. She so deserves this spotlight and I am so proud to call her my coworker! :)” “LeeAnn is a very hard worker who puts in many hours outside of the school day to make sure every detail is right. We appreciate everything she does.” “She has put a lot of time and effort into making sure that everybody is taken care of and bends over backwards to help those who are need. She really knows how to brighten your day, and can be quite the jokester. :-)” “LeeAnn is always willing to answer questions and solve problems and all with a smile!” “LeeAnn is a true team player. She has worked hard to learn her job. LeeAnn is always willing to share any information she has with the office crew, which often makes our job easier. LeeAnn is always willing to lend a helping hand and is ready to jump in wherever needed. The district was lucky to add LeeAnn to our team.”

Jennifer's time was a minute faster than her previous best 3 mile time.

Arabella Cory, (11th grade), continued her late season improvement to run her best 3 mile time ever of 26:41. Zoe Balda Steffens, (10th grade), finished with a time of 28:53.

Joke time...
Ole was walking down the street when he was accosted by a particularly dirty and shabby-looking homeless man who asked him for a couple of dollars for dinner.

Ole took out his wallet, extracted ten dollars and asked, "If I give you this money, will you buy some beer with it instead of dinner?"

"No, I had to stop drinking years ago," the homeless man replied.

"Will you use it to go fishing instead of buying food?" Ole asked.

"No, I don't waste time fishing," the homeless man said.. "I need to spend all my time trying to stay alive."

"Will you spend this on hunting equipment?" Ole asked.

"Are you NUTS!" replied the homeless man. "I haven't gone hunting in 20 years!"

"Well," Ole said, "I'm not going to give you money. Instead, I'm going to take you home for a shower and a terrific dinner cooked by my wife, Lena."

The homeless man was astounded. "Won't your wife be furious with you for doing that?"

Ole replied, "Don't worry about that. It's important for her to see what a man looks like after he has given up drinking."

NDSU offers grain drying and storage tips

by Dr. Kenneth Hellevang, North Dakota State University Extension Service

Farmers are finishing harvest as we transition from a nice warm fall to cooler temperatures and precipitation coming as snow. Following is some guidance on drying and storage during this transition.

Natural air drying
In-bin air-drying becomes inefficient as outdoor air temperature decreases. Turn the drying fans off when outside temperatures average below about 40 degrees. Transition to cooling the grain for winter storage. Do not operate the fans when it is raining, snowing, or foggy.

Cooling stored grain
The grain should be cooled whenever the average outdoor temperature is 10 to 15 degrees cooler than the grain. It should be cooled to near or below 30 degrees for winter storage in the northern states.

Cool grain with aeration to reduce the insect infestation potential. Insect reproduction is reduced at temperatures below about 60°F, insects are dormant below about 50°F, and insects can be killed by extended exposure to temperatures below about 30°F.

Cooling grain as outdoor temperatures cool reduces moisture migration and the condensation potential near the top of the grain pile. In addition, grain moisture content and temperature affect the rate of mold growth and grain deterioration, with the allowable storage time approximately doubling with each 10-degree reduction in grain temperature.

Storing in bags
Storing grain in poly bags is a good option, but it does not prevent insect infestations or mold growth in damp grain. Grain placed in bags should be dry and cool. Recommendations include:

- Placing grain in bags at recommended storage moisture contents based on grain and outdoor temperatures. Corn can be stored at 15% to 18% as long as the corn is near or below 30 degrees going into storage and average outdoor temperatures are near or below 30 degrees. Corn that will be stored into spring and early summer should be at 14% moisture or lower.
- Heating and grain deterioration will occur if the grain exceeds a safe storage moisture content, and grain in a bag cannot be cooled with aeration. The average temperature of dry grain will follow the average outdoor temperature.

- Selecting an elevated, well-drained site for the storage bags.

- Preparing the ground surface so the bag is not punctured during placement.

- Placing the bags, north and south, so solar heating is similar on both sides. Sunshine on just one side heats that side, which can lead to moisture accumulation in the grain on the cool side.

- Monitoring the grain temperature at several places in the bags. Wildlife can puncture the bags, creating an entrance for moisture and releasing the grain smell, which attracts more wildlife.

Grain Piles
Grain frequently is stored short term in outdoor piles. However, precipitation is a severe problem in uncovered grain. Just a 1-inch rain will increase the moisture content of a 1-foot layer of corn by 9 percentage points. This typically leads to the loss of at least 2 feet of grain on the pile surface. Snow on the pile may melt and wet the grain, or it is mixed with the grain during unloading.

A 1-foot loss on the surface of a 25-foot-high cone-shaped pile is about 13 percent of the grain. This is a loss of $39,000 if the grain value is $4 per bushel. If creating outdoor piles:

- Use a cover to prevent water infiltration. A combination of restraining straps and suction from the aeration system holds grain covers in place. Aeration and wind blowing on the pile will not dry wet grain adequately to prevent spoilage.

- Place the pile so the storage floor is higher than the surrounding ground to minimize moisture transfer from the soil into the grain and assure that there is good drainage around the pile.

- Properly sized and spaced ducts should be placed on the ground under the pile to pull air through the grain. Place perforated ducts on the grain under the cover to provide a controlled air intake for the aeration system and provide airflow near the cover to minimize condensation problems.

For people from Clearbrook this is the Westby organ. It was in the family home, then loaned to the church, then was on the Jacobson farm, and then it was bought by a lady who lives in Minneapolis. She has offered it to her nieces and nephews, but, of course, no one has room for it. Does anyone think that maybe it could be put at the Clearbrook Depot or the Clearwater History Center? It will go at no charge to whoever will haul it out of the ladies house. Anyone interested let me know at richards@gvtel.com.

Representative Matt Grossell

651-296-4265 email: rep.matt.grossell@house.mn

Statement from Rep. Grossell on 2018 individual insurance rates.

ST. PAUL, MN—On Monday the Minnesota Department of Commerce released final rates for the 2018 individual insurance market, confirming that Republican-led reforms helped reverse the four straight years of double-digit premium increases and helped to expand health care choices to Minnesota families—particularly in rural areas. According to the Minnesota Department of Commerce, rates would have risen by 20 percent or higher without Republican reforms. The individual market serves Minnesotans who do not receive health insurance through their employer or the government.

Over the past four years, premium rates increased by double digits every year, including nearly 60 percent just one year ago. As a result of the reinsurance program recently approved by the federal government, all current insurers will continue serving the individual market next year. In addition, Republicans successfully pushed to expand health care options and improve access to hospitals and doctors. As part of the reinsurance legislation, providers are now required to offer in-network access to more than one health care provider system in the counties in which they operate.

Rep. Matt Grossell, R-Clearbrook, released the following statement regarding Monday's rate announcement: "Northern Minnesota has been hit especially hard over the last few years by skyrocketing health care premiums and shrinking networks. Monday's news is welcome relief to the thousands of Minnesotans who will benefit from reforms passed by Republicans during the 2017 session. We will continue to build on these reforms in the upcoming session and help reclaim Minnesota's place as a national leader in health care."
