'They recognize potential value' – ES Director

Recycling to begin at Bagley/ Clearbrook-Gonvick schools

By Karen Edelbach

The Clearwater County Board of Commissioners held their last October meeting on the 30th, with all Commissioners present: Daniel Stenseng, Dean Newland, John Nelson, Neal Illies and Arlen Syverson.

Environmental Services Director, Dan Hecht announced the schools have received the Environmental Assistance Grant money totaling $184,000, which was used to purchase the auger compactors for recycling at three locations. The auger compactors for recyclables at the Bagley Elementary and High Schools, and Clearbrook-Gonvick School were installed at all three sites on October 30th.

"The machines belong to the schools and are intended to reduce their disposal and hauling costs," said ES Director Hecht, who wrote the grant, and did the application.

The school is required to make a 25% match of the funds, a $46,000 value which will be provided in the way of staff hours to train the students about recycling, and also pays for County in-kind expense for Dan's staff time in managing the grant, and JAG Body Shop for bin label printing in the amount of $800 (the County's only cash expense), and reimbursable from grant funds.

Head Custodian of the Bagley Schools, Dan Lavine, has been very involved in the installation of the compactors here.

The County will recover some money as a result, and it will save about $700 per year in solid waste management taxes.

"The State has been expressing a need for wanting us to do more in the way of recycling here. This is why I'm doing this. This (the schools) is a good source of recyclables. It will include office paper, newspaper, card board, plastic bottles, tin and aluminum cans. This is a huge portion of the schools' waste," Dan explained.

"The schools have been very supportive of the project because they recognize the potential savings on solid waste costs," he said.

"This project was made possible by a grant to the County and Schools from the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency Environmental Assistance Grant Program".

Sanford Health Personnel Rob Belanger, Administrator, Stephanie McKnight, Nursing Manager, and Jim Aagenes brought concerns to the Commissioners' attention of the risk involved at times when a helicopter is landing at the pad behind the hospital.

"We have concerns on the sliding hill, and some people just passing through. There are also public vehicles that park there at times," stated Administrator Rob Belanger. "There is also a great 'wash' (wind projecting debris) from the helicopter, making it a safety issue."

"We propose having fencing constructed to keep people away from the helicopter pad, and prevent the public cars from parking there, which must be moved for the helicopter to land," added Stephanie McKnight and Jim Aagenes.

"What we want to do is to limit access to the parking lot. We know that kids are curious when they see a helicopter. We have no intention of taking away the sliding hill," the hospital staff commented.

Commissioner Arlen Syverson commented that kids have been sliding on that hill since he was a kid – 80 or more years ago. He proposed a sign for authorized parking only, with the towing of other vehicles.

Besides winter sledding on the hill, the parking lot fills up with people in summer to watch the fireworks.

"There is a tradition of doing that for many years," Commissioner Dean Newland added.

"We also know the historic value of the rock fence," it was stated.

"The wall belongs to the City," Commissioner Neal Illies stated. He suggested an automated gate for authorized vehicles to enter the parking lot, which may be considered.

"The line is close to the northwest corner," added Commissioner John Nelson.

With that, an aerial view was

"We are hoping this will do some good," said custodian Marlene Gerbracht who began placing the recycle bins in the classrooms. "Head Start is very excited about this also, as they are already recycling." One class of youngsters was very surprised when the huge compactor was placed directly in front of their window. The students thought it looked like part of a train.

Veterans Day program planned Monday

The Clearbrook-Gonvick School will be holding its annual Veterans Day Program on Monday, November 12th at 10:00 A.M. in the School gymnasium.

Veterans will be honored and they are asked to come 15 minutes before the program starts. The high school band will be performing and music teacher Mrs. Regan will be singing "God Bless America".

The guest Speaker for this year's Veterans Day Program is US Navy Pilot veteran and former Gonvick resident Steve Richards. He graduated from Gonvick-Trail High School and the University of Minnesota with a Mechanical Engineering degree.

The Gonvick American Legion will be providing the Honor Guard for the program and the Auxiliary will serve a light refreshment afterwards.

Remembering veterans

On Sunday, November 11, 2018, the United States will celebrate Veterans Day. On Monday, May 28, 2018, the United States celebrated Memorial Day.

Both holidays are dedicated to Veterans; Memorial Day is to honor those Veterans that have died in the service of their country, while Veterans Day honors all Veterans that have honorably served in the United States military, both in wartime and peacetime. In fact, Veterans Day is largely intended to thank the living veterans for their service, to acknowledge that their contribution to our national security is appreciated, and to recognize the fact that all those who served, not only those who have died, have sacrificed and done their duty to keep America free.

The Clearwater County Veterans Memorial is not only dedicated to the Clearwater County Veterans that have died in the service to their country, but also honor those Veterans that have served, and are presently serving the United States. The Veterans that died in service to their country during wartime are honored on the Memorial's black marble monuments. The Veterans that have served and are serving the United States are honored with the etched field stones that have been placed at the Memorial. Presently, approximately 630 Veterans are honored with the etched field stones.

On Saturday, September 1, 2018, there was a motorcycle ride, the "RIDE FOR STONES"; that also honors the Veterans of Clearwater County. This motorcycle ride was originated by, and continues to be promoted by both Jeff Schermerhorn, Bagley, MN, a Vietnam Era Veteran, and Neal Illies, Bagley resident. The 2018 ride raised approximately $5,869 in donations. These donations were donated to the Clearwater County Veterans Memorial to provide 30 etched field stones honoring Clearwater County Veterans.

The Clearwater County Veterans Memorial randomly selected 30 names from the combined list of Veteran's names that are read at Memorial Day Ceremonies at Rice Lake, Bagley, Clearbrook and Gonvick (this list is comprised of the names of approximately 1801 deceased Veterans from the Spanish American War to the present).

The 30 Clearwater County Veterans randomly selected in 2018 are as follows:

KENNETH T. VANNETT – US Army Veteran that was Killed in Combat during the Korean War, and is buried in the Rice Free Lutheran Cemetery, Clearwater County, MN. Kenneth T, Vannett was a resident of the Shevlin/Zerkel area.

CLARENCE E. O'BEIRNE – US Navy Veteran that served during World War II, and is buried in Our Lady of Victory Cemetery, Clearwater County, MN. Clarence E. O'Beirne was a resident of the Shevlin area.

MICHAEL KROLL – US Navy Veteran that served during World War II, and is buried in the Nora Township Cemetery, Nora Township, Clearwa-

We have had short biographies written for the individuals from Clearwater County that never returned home. These would be the names on the black marble monuments. I am attaching the short biographies for the two individuals that are buried in the Luxembourg American Cemetery.

Woodrow Wilson was married to Irene Aune (Eddy Township). After Woodrow's death, Irene married Carl Anderson, of south of Bagley. One of their children is Mrs. Gary Bonik, of Bagley, MN.

Emil Richards was married to Beulah of Clearbrook now of Cornerstone Residence in Bagley. They had one son Dick Richards of Gonvick.

To all my hair clients,

I want to THANK YOU for letting me serve you the past 10 years at the Gonvick's Hair Repair & Tan. If it had not been for you, the door would not have stayed open.

After a very difficult decision, I have accepted a position at Essentia Health in Fosston. One of the reasons is for health insurance. My husband plans to retire in a few years and I will be without insurance. Insurance is a must these days. Also, I have done hair for 30 years and really need a change. This job opportunity came up very fast, I thought it is the time to make the move.

I am so thankful that I had a chance to have a shop in Gonvick. I have met so many nice people and made wonderful friends. You are going to be very much missed. The last day for the shop to be open is Wednesday, November 14th.

What is going to happen to the shop? Our daughter Brooke has decided to remodel and make it her first home. She is very excited. I have got to say, I am so blessed she has decided to stay close by.

Once again, THANK YOU so much for the past 10 years of choosing me to have fun with your hair.

Sincerely,
Bobbie Dyrdahl

P.S. All retail now sold at my cost or below. X-mas is coming, please come get it.

They say there is a reason,
they say that time will heal,
But neither time nor reason
will change the way we feel.
For no one knows the heartache
that lies behind our smiles.
No one knows how many times
we have broken down and cried.
We want to tell you something
so that there won't be any doubt.
You're so wonderful to think of,

A Salute To America's Military Heroes

We will be closed Nov. 12th in honor of Veterans Day

Veterans Day is November 11th. This holiday was originally called Armistice Day when it was established in 1926 to commemorate the end of World War I and to honor those who sacrificed their lives.

In 1954, the day was renamed Veterans Day to honor all American men and women who have served in the military during war and peacetime. We thank all veterans for their service and sacrifice for our country.

Clearwater County Receives Grant Funding for Recycling Equipment for Local Schools

By Dan Hecht, Clearwater County Environmental Services

A cash grant in the amount of $136,177.00 from the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency Environmental Assistance Grant Program was recently awarded to Clearwater County for use at the three school campuses in Clearwater County – Clearbrook-Gonvick, Bagley Elementary and Bagley High – for installation of equipment to be used for collection, storage and efficient transportation of recyclables. The grant application was written by Clearwater County Environmental Services in March, 2018 and notification of the award was received in June, 2018. The schools are providing matching funds in the amount of $48,652.00, mostly as in-kind in the form of school staff salaries for classroom time to teach students to use the recycling program, and the remainder in the form of site preparation work. The largest expense using grant funds was for a compactor at each site, used to hold the recyclables and containerize them for shipment. The equipment was installed at the schools on October 30th and is now in use.

The project has both educational and financial elements. First, by making recycling practical and accessible in the schools, recycling habits can be developed by students during regular school days so students will carry these habits through life. Separate collection bins will be placed throughout each school and recyclables will be separated from regular trash within classrooms, cafeterias and offices and consolidated for efficient storage then transportation to the recyclables processing facility in Fosston. Materials can be co-mingled and include office paper, newspaper, cardboard, tin cans, aluminum cans and plastic containers.

Second, but just as important as the educational aspect, is reducing the schools' garbage costs. Our three schools combined have had annual garbage collection and disposal costs in excess of $50,000.00, while a large fraction of this trash is recyclable. By keeping recyclables separate from trash, we can avoid contamination – paper mixed with food waste, for example. The schools are not charged a disposal fee for clean recyclables and therefore their total annual cost of disposal at the Fosston facility will be reduced. If you think about the makeup of the waste stream in a school, it's easy to see the savings could be substantial when there's no cost for the paper, tin and cardboard. Not only that, but using the equipment purchased through the grant to compact and hold the material, haul weight will be optimized, thereby reducing the transportation cost substantially as well.

The School Boards, administration and custodial staffs have never shown a doubt that this would work, and I applaud them for their support and willingness to make the needed improvements to each site. I'd also like to thank the faculty for encouraging recycling in their classrooms. It's been a pleasure to work with our local schools on this project.

I did not realize that there were two from the area, Woodrow Wilson, US Army was killed in combat in Battle of the Bulge and Emil Richards US Army was killed in the Battle of Ormont on March 4th, 1945 during World War II. They are both buried in the American Cemetery at Luxembourg. The cemetery where 5,075 other Americans lie, including General George Patton. It is a very somber place to visit but the grounds are kept in immaculate condition.

Joke time...

Two Norwegians are driving at night. The driver starts to worry something is wrong with his blinkers so he pulls over and asks the other Norwegian to get out and check them.

"Hey," the guys yells from the front of the car, "It works... Wait it doesn't work... No now it works... Wait it doesn't work... No wait, now it works... Oh sorry, it doesn't work..."

From my email..
Perks of getting old!

Perks of reaching 60 or being over 70 and heading towards 80!

Kidnappers are not very interested in you. In a hostage situation you are likely to be released first. No one expects you to run – anywhere. People call at 8 pm and ask, "Did I wake you?" People no longer view you as a hypochondriac. There is nothing left to learn the hard way. Things you buy now won't wear out. You can eat supper at 5 pm. You can live without sex but not your glasses. Your supply of brain cells is finally down to a manageable size. You can't remember who sent you this list. And you notice these are all in big print for your convenience.

Forward this to everyone you can remember right now! And remember, Never, under any circumstances, take a sleeping pill and a laxative on the same night!

Raising Awareness of the Benefits of Hospice

Clearwater County Nursing Service-Clearwater Hospice Celebrates November's National Hospice and Palliative Care Month

(Clearwater County, Mn) – Hospice is not a place but is high-quality care that enables patients and families to focus on living as fully as possible despite a life-limiting illness. November is National Hospice and Palliative Care Month and hospice and palliative care programs across the country are reaching out to help people understand all that hospice and palliative care offer.

In recent months, a number of notable Americans have died. They include Senator John McCain, the queen of soul Aretha Franklin, and former first lady Barbara Bush. In many media reports, they were described as having "given up" on curative care late in their lives. Ms. Franklin opted for hospice care; Mrs. Bush received what was described as "comfort care."

It is essential that people understand that hospice and palliative care is not giving up, it is not the abandonment of care, it is not reserved for the imminently dying," said Edo Banach, president and CEO of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization. "Hospice is a successful model of person-centered care that brings hope, dignity and compassion when they are most needed.

Every year, nearly 1.5 million Medicare beneficiaries receive care from hospices in this country, reports NHPCO. Hospice and palliative care programs provide pain management, symptom control, psychosocial support, and spiritual care to patients and their family caregivers when a cure is not possible.

More information about hospice, palliative care, and advance care planning is available from Clearwater County Nursing Service-Clearwater Hospice: 218-694-6581 or 218-487-5272 or from NHPCO's CaringInfo.org.

The Great American Smokeout

Is an annual intervention event on the third Thursday of November by the American Cancer Society. Tobacco use remains the single largest preventable cause of disease and premature death in the state. This annual event, held on November 15th this year, challenges people to quit on that day, or use the day to make a plan to quit.

QUITPLAN Services offers Minnesotans free help to quit tobacco. Their goal is simple: to do everything they can to help a person become 100% tobacco free. Visit quitplan.com or call 1-888-354-PLAN (7526) to view their services or for tips, tools and information to help quit in a way that works for the individual.

Where You Live Affects How Long You Live

Minnesota- 80.80 years
Pennington County - 79.73 years
Red Lake County -79.29 years

For the first time in our history, the United States is raising a generation of children who may live sicker and shorter lives than their parents.

According to the most recent data available from the CDC, average life expectancy in the U.S. is 78.8 years—76.3 years for men and 81.2 years for women. Adding to a 2017 analysis which found growing disparities in life expectancy across U.S. counties and ZIP codes, the National Center for Health Statistics has released first-of-its-kind data on life expectancy at the neighborhood level which shows that life expectancy rates vary greatly.

Developed with support from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), the data makes it possible to understand how much our health is influenced by conditions where we live.

Affordable, high-quality health care is essential to our health. But where we live can have an even greater impact. Improving health and longevity in communities starts with ensuring access to healthy food, good schools, affordable housing, and jobs that provide us the resources necessary to care for ourselves and our families—in essence, the types of conditions that can help keep us from getting sick in the first place.

Parenting Tips

Teen smoking and use of other conventional tobacco products are at historic lows, but the rise of e-cigarettes threatens the health of Minnesota's youth just when a tobacco-free generation is within reach. E-cigarettes are battery-powered devices that allow users to inhale, or "vape," aerosolized liquid ("e-juice"). Nearly all e-cigarettes contain nicotine. Nicotine is highly addictive, and exposure during adolescence can harm brain development, causing lasting deficits in learning, memory and attention, and increasing risk for future addiction to other substances. Monitoring e-cigarette initiation is important, because experimentation with tobacco products can lead to nicotine addiction and regular use.

The popularity of e-cigarettes among Minnesota youth has reversed a 17-year downward trend in youth tobacco use. E-cigarettes contain nicotine and are not safe for youth, yet in 2017 one in four middle and high school students in Minnesota, and one in two high school seniors, reported having tried e-cigarettes. Among students who had tried e-cigarettes, half had used them in the past 30 days, possibly indicating use that is more regular. More than nine out of ten students that had tried e-cigarettes are susceptible to future use. Effective and widespread interventions are needed to reduce the number of students that try and are harmed by e-cigarettes.

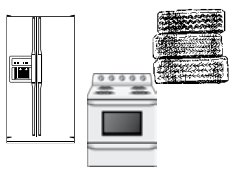

No luck on finding who the people are.

This is real Who Dat? We only know that the picture was taken on the Pearson lawn east of Gonvick before 1960. The original house is still standing in the background. Any idea who these people may be. The owner of the picture is looking for answers.

World Diabetes Day, November 14

What is diabetes?

Diabetes is a chronic (long-lasting) disease that affects how your body turns food into energy.

Most of the food you eat is broken down into sugar (glucose) and released into your bloodstream. Your pancreas makes a hormone called insulin, which acts like a key to let the blood sugar into your body's cells for use as energy.

If you have diabetes, your body either doesn't make enough insulin or can't use the insulin it makes as well as it should. When there isn't enough insulin or cells stop responding to insulin, too much blood sugar stays in your bloodstream, which over time can cause serious health problems, such as heart disease, vision loss, and kidney disease.

Common types of diabetes

Type 1 diabetes

Type 1 diabetes is caused by an autoimmune reaction (the body attacks itself) that stops your body from making insulin. About 5% of the people who have diabetes have type 1.

Type 2 diabetes

Your body doesn't use the insulin you make well and is unable to keep blood sugar at normal levels. Most people with diabetes – 9 in 10 – have type 2. It develops over many years and is usually diagnosed in adults (though increasingly in children, teens, and young adults).

Gestational diabetes (GDM)

Gestational diabetes develops in pregnant women who have never had diabetes. Gestational diabetes usually goes away after the baby is born, but increases the risk for type 2 diabetes later in life. The baby is more likely to develop type 2 diabetes later in life too.

Prediabetes

More than 1 in 3 people have prediabetes, and 90% of them don't know they have it. In prediabetes blood sugar levels are higher than normal, but not high enough yet to be diagnosed as diabetes.

Symptoms of diabetes:

Urinating often
Feeling very thirsty
Feeling very hungry even though you are eating
Extreme fatigue, especially after eating
Blurry vision
Cuts/bruises that are slow to heal

Managing diabetes

There isn't a cure yet for diabetes, but healthy lifestyle habits, taking medicine as needed, getting diabetes self-management education, and working with your health care team can greatly reduce diabetes' impact on your life.

water County in 1903. Cora, a widow with five children, had grown up in Bertown, Wisconsin before marrying Frank at Bagley on March 7, 1904. Frank and Cora had ten children between them: Ida Smith, Edyth Smith, Floyd Smith, Joe Smith, Sadie Smith, William Wilson, Lloyd Wilson, Nellie (Ellen) Wilson, John Wilson, and Woodrow Wilson.

Woodrow attended school through the 8th grade, then went to work cutting wood. In December of 1938 he married Irene Mildred Aune, a farm girl from Eddy Township. On January 22, 1939, Woodrow and Irene had a son they named Rodney Wayne Wilson.

Woodrow registered for the draft on October 16, 1940 in Bagley. He was 5'7" tall with hazel eyes and brown hair. He enlisted in the Army at Fort Snelling on February 14, 1944. His skills were listed under "skilled chauffers and drivers," so he was attached to a tank unit, the 53rd Armored Infantry Battalion, 4th Armored Division.

The 4th Armored Division landed at Utah Beach on July 11, 1944 and 6 days later was in full combat securing the Coutances area in France. They then took Nantes in August, drove swiftly across France and smashed the Moselle in mid-September, then captured Luneville. The 4th fought several German panzergrenadier brigades in the Lorraine area and defeated the larger forces through superior tactics and training. After a brief rest, the 4th returned to combat in November near Viviers; cleared Bois de Serres and crossed the Saar River. The Germans launched their Ardennes Offensive on the 16th of December and the 4th was in the thick of it. They were the first unit to break through at Bastogne to relieve the besieged 101st Airborne Division on the 26th of December, but Private Woodrow Wilson had been wounded in the fierce battle at Bigonville and died of his wounds on Christmas Eve, 1944.

The 53rd Armored Infantry Battalion received the blue streamer of a distinguished unit citation on its colors and Irene Wilson posthumously received Woodrow's Purple Heart. The relief of Bastogne had cost the 4th Armored Division about 1,000 men killed and wounded. Thirty soldiers of the 53rd died, including Private Woodrow Wilson, and 180 were wounded.

Woodrow was buried in Plot A, Row 2, Grave 18 in the Luxembourg American Cemetery, Luxembourg. He was 28 years old.

EMIL S. RICHARDS

Emil Steven Richards was born August 12, 1918 in Roseau County to Harry Elwood and Bertha Smith Richards. Harry, an Illinois native, was farming in Westport Township, Brown County, South Dakota when he and Bertha met. Bertha had been born and raised in Brown County. They were married on October 14, 1909 in Brown County. Three of their sons – Charles, Carroll and Theodore – were born in South Dakota. Harry and Bertha moved to Beaver Township in Roseau County where daughter Juletta, and sons Emil and Verland were born. By 1923 the family had moved to a farm in Leon Township, Clearwater County, where daughters Florence and Anne and sons Harris and David were born.

Emil attended country school at the Greenwood School and ended his formal schooling when he graduated from the 8th grade, after which he helped his father out on the family farm. For a time he went to work as a farmhand on the farm of Leslie Hock in Springdale, Minnesota, then came back to the family farm. He registered for the draft on October 16, 1940 in Leon Township. He was 22 years old, 5'7" tall, 175 pounds with brown eyes and black hair. He noted that he was employed by his father Harry.

Emil had gone to school with Beulah Crosby, daughter of pioneer homesteaders Ben and Lillian Crosby who farmed in Greenwood Township. Ben, a former lumberjack and worker on the Great Lakes, was currently working for the county building roads and bridges. Emil and Beulah fell in love and married on November 19, 1940 in the church parsonage in Clearbrook.

Work was scarce in northern Minnesota so Emil and Beulah moved to Illinois where Emil's relatives lived. Emil was a talented welder so he got a job welding in a coal mine in Woodhull, Henry County, Illinois. Emil and Beulah became the parents of a son, Dick, in 1942.

Emil's older brothers were all in the military, and Emil, thinking that the Army could use a good welder, decided to enlist as well. He enlisted at Fort Snelling in Minneapolis on July 15, 1944 with the listed civil occupation as "skilled welders and flame cutters."

Unfortunately, the Army was in greater need of infantry replacements in the European Theater at that time. The Army sent Emil to train with the 346th Infantry Regiment, 87th Infantry Division. The Regiment arrived at Camp Kilmer, New Jersey on October 11, 1944, where they received final processing and inspections. They boarded the Queen Elizabeth, the largest passenger ship in the world, in the port of New York on October 17th bound for Glasgow. From Glasgow, the regiment moved by train to an assembly area south of Chester, England where they spent a month receiving new vehicles and combat equipment. The order came to board ship to cross the Channel on November 28, 1944, and the regiment lined the rails to see the bombed-out shores of Le Havre, France with its harbor full of the hulls and masts of sunken ships. From Le Havre the troops moved by truck to an assembly area south of St. Saens, France for a short rest before moving to Metz, where the signs of war were still freshly in evidence from just days earlier. On December 10, the regiment received orders to relieve the 104th Infantry Regiment at Aachen at dawn the next day.

The men of the 346th were soon combat veterans. They slept in the snow, plowed through the mud and heavy fire from tanks and pillboxes. The attack shifted in the direction of Rimling, France followed by two more days of bitter fighting and heavy artillery shelling. Finally at 4:45 p.m. on December 15 the regiment crossed the German border.

Christmas Day was supposed to be at Munster but orders came down to move back to the vicinity of Reims, France. The convoy was bombed and strafed, and that night was spent in intense suffering from the agonizing cold, cramped quarters and utter fatigue.

In January, with battles in the Saar, The Belgian Ardennes and Luxembourg behind them, the 87th Division got the order to drive the enemy from Belgium and crack the Siegfried Line. The 346th Infantry Regiment, including Pvt. Emil Richards, was the pacesetter. It executed an end run to capture German supply bases at Schonberg and Andler.

Following the capture of Neuendorf the Division had earned a two-week rest to resupply and get reinforcements before the final push against the Siegfried Line. Combat resumed on February 26 with Ormont as the initial objective. Ormont was a German municipality at the foot of the Schneifel Mountains. The 346th pointed the attack on Ormont, moving along the heavily mined and booby-trapped road which caused many casualties. I Company of the 346th was pinned down for 36 hours when it encountered a road block covered by two pillboxes until a platoon of combat engineers from the 312th Engineer Battalion blasted the road block with 500 pounds of high explosives. The key terrain feature of the enemy defense was "Goldbrick Hill," a high, bald, detached hill on which the Germans had built 15 twenty-man pillboxes. Enemy opposition was strong with deadly artillery, mortar and neblewerfel (smoke mortar) fire. Supply was extremely difficult because of the rugged terrain, so the troops spent five nights in their foxholes in bitter cold weather without blankets or bedrolls. There were dozens of casualties, many caused by tree bursts, or artillery fire fused to detonate when it impacted the tree tops, causing hot metal shrapnel and wood fragments to rain down. On March 3rd the 346th launched an all-out attack with a 20-minute artillery preparation. Using marching fire it knocked out seven enemy machine guns and captured the hill, which yielded 150 enemy POWs and inflicted 100 enemy casualties. The troops dug in for the night in a perimeter defense, all the while suffering increased artillery and mortar fire.

It is not known how Emil died, but it is known that he perished in the Battle of Ormont on March 4th, 1945. He did not get to celebrate with his regiment when the capture of Goldbrick Hill gave the troops renewed freedom of movement and broke the back of the enemy defenses in that sector of the Siegfried Line.

Pvt. Emil Richards was buried in Luxembourg American Cemetery and Memorial in Hamm, Luxembourg where 5,075 other Americans lie, including General George Patton. Emil received a posthumous Purple Heart. He was 26 years old, leaving a grieving wife and a two-year-old son.

"Business is even better during pipeline construction than vacation season."

Doug (Bagley, MN)
Owner, Harwood Oil

"I look forward to pipeline construction for increased business—it's even greater than our vacationer business when construction activity is going on. The pipeliners come into my repair shop for service work and tires for their personal trucks. Even if I didn't benefit, I'd still support pipeline construction. We need these pipelines. We need this oil."

> Here are some of the ways Minnesota communities will benefit from the Line 3 Replacement Project:

Local business boost
During construction, Enbridge sources local businesses like hardware stores, supply stores and parts dealers for goods and services to support their operations.

More than 8,600 jobs
Private investment in Minnesota for the Line 3 Replacement Project is anticipated to be responsible for more than 8,600 jobs, $334 million in labor income and a total economic impact of more than $2 billion.

Almost $50 million in state taxes
Currently, $30 million is paid annually by Enbridge to Minnesota in property taxes. In the first year of service, that will increase incrementally by $19.5 million, bringing our annual total to nearly $50 million—that's tax dollars that will be used to fund schools, infrastructure, recreation and more.
