CONTINUING THE GONVICK RECORD AND CLEARBROOK LEADER
Serving the Communities of Clearbrook, Gonvick, Gully, Leonard and Trail

Coach Steve Philion, was inducted into the Minnesota Boys Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame last November. This was Steve Philion receiving the ceremonial peace pipe at the game on February 24th when the Clearbrook-Gonvick Bears hosted his Red Lake County Rebels. Following the varsity game, there were goodies in the school commons and a time for those who wanted to share well wishes and a time to personally thank Steve for everything he did at Gonvick and Clearbrook-Gonvick Schools.

Rick Mollin will retire on March 10

There might be an extra wrinkle here or there, perhaps an extra bit of gray in his hair, but in his line of work as the Clearwater County Attorney, he is entitled to a few signs of stress.

However, Rick Mollin will be lightening his work load dramatically come March 10, the date he will retire from his elected position.

Mr. Mollin, 71, said he and his wife Cheryl want to have more time for visiting with their two daughters and five grandchildren, which means they'll need to escape the pressure of answering the call of the court calendar.

The county is advertising for someone to take over when he leaves office. Mollin already has a few cases lined up that his replacement will have to tackle. One is an appeal from convicted sex offender Scott Morey, and the other is a complex matter of a severe injury after an unreported motorcycle crash.

Mollin was elected Clearwater County Attorney in 2010, taking office on Jan. 1, 2011. Asked why he ran for the office in the first place, he said people asked him to seek the office. The encouragement came at a time in his career when he was nearing retirement age, and he thought he could "give back a little bit, try to give a sense of security to the community." He aimed for this goal by prosecuting criminals and seeing quite a few of them sent to prison.

His record shows his office brought 45 to 50 cases to jury trial, with about 80 percent of his cases resulting in a conviction, which was a marked departure from prior years.

In regard to his fashion of plea bargaining, Mollin said he would always go for the most severe of the charges, using reduced prison/jail time as a bargaining chip. Another aim was to help restore the crime victim's losses to the extent possible. His policy was to "charge out the crimes accurately and then pursue them."

Asked what he felt was the worst type of crime man inflicts on others, Mollin replied, "In my experience, predatory sex offenders, especially against children." He called sexual predation on children "the worst form of human behavior.... Preying on young kids is depraved."

When asked how prevalent such crimes are in our community, he said, "They are much more prevalent than we are able to prosecute, because young children are not always able to accurately describe what happened to them." Also, victims face pressure from family members not to testify against another member of the family, a friend, close relative or just from the sheer embarrassment of having to tell the story publicly. Those defending the perpetrator in such a way, he noted, are interfering in the process of justice.

When asked which cases stand out the most in his memory, his first on the list was the Scott Morey trial, which resulted in a conviction for criminal sexual conduct involving children.

Next on his list was the trial to find justice for Leisa Martin, who was found dead many years ago. Her trial came up about 16 years after her death, so people's stories changed and memories faded when compared to their original statements to police. One of the two defendants pled guilty while the other was found not guilty.

Last on his list of memorable cases was the McCormick trial for a man accused of causing the death of a hunter by knocking his tree stand down with the hunter in it. The jury delivered a guilty verdict, but on a subsequent appeal case law negated some of the original testimony, and the result was that McCormick's verdict was reversed.

What is the most difficult case to prosecute? "Domestic assaults are the most difficult," replied Mollin. The victim, usually the woman, calls to report that her husband or boyfriend beat her up, and "she is ready to hang him!" But after tempers simmer and she sees that the father of her children or the love of her life is going to do time, she relents. He said the conviction rate for domestic disturbances is significantly lower than other crimes.

Lastly, asked what he thinks of the justice system in Minnesota, he replied, "By and large, the system works pretty well."

Thanks are in order: Mollin said he is thankful to have been blessed with the highest quality of cooperation from the Sheriff's Office, Bagley Police Department, State Troopers and the Clearbrook-Gonvick Police Department. "Good reporting, thorough investigation, and in-court testimony have made all those prosecutions much easier," he added.

"All four of our assistant county attorneys, Mark Severson, Matt Headley, Jason Steck and Dave Hanson have dedicated themselves throughout their time here."

In closing, he said, "I have a special place in my heart for two young ladies, Kristi Thompson and Karen Gebhardt. The office runs and only runs because of their willingness and desire to make it so. Quite literally, I could not have been half as effective without them."

Laura Lobo to be Keynote Speaker at First Lady of Year Reception this Saturday

Saturday morning at 10:00 at St. Josephs Church in Bagley, the staff of the Clearwater County Historical Society will announce the 2017 Clearwater County First Lady. In keeping with tradition since 1977, the selection was made last week but the name of the chosen lady has been kept secret- even from the lady herself!

The program will include keynote speaker Laura Lobo, whose presentation, In celebration of the National Women's History Month 2017 Theme- "Honoring Trailblazing Women in Labor and Business," will address some of the common traits of history's remarkable women with the title "Fearlessly First: Pioneers in Possibility".

Laura Lobo is a voice coach, the author of "Give Your Talent Wings," and an active member of Bemidji Area Toastmasters. Based on her experience, Laura recommends that everyone learns best by "doing" when improving one's ability to embark on uncharted territory. "Anyone can be a trailblazer," claims Laura. "Simply be willing to jump in and hang on." Don't miss this opportunity to discover your own best potential with this inspirational and interactive presentation.

The First National Bank and Riverwood Bank of Bagley, First State Bank of Clearbrook and The Northern State Bank of Gonvick are sponsoring the award that will be given to the 2017 First Lady. This years event is co-hosted by the Clearwater County Historical Society and the women of St. Josephs Catholic Church.

Gully Trail Lutheran Parishes feature authors at their Midwinter Social

At their 2nd annual Midwinter Social, the Gully-Trail Lutheran Parishes hosted an interesting evening program devoted to being part of their mission to serve others.

Held at the Gully Lund Lutheran Church, the program featured a lovely meal catered by Tamera Anderson of Trail, a skit by confirmation students Christopher Carlson, Cassidy Manecke, Trinity Lee, Jayden Bergerson, Brooklyn Ostenna, Halie Thompson, Frankie Omang, and Maci Wagner, and a guest appearance of authors Jill and Dean Johnson. Special music was provided by Carole Tharaldson and her three granddaughters Cassidy Manecke, Brooklyn Ostenna, and Maci Wagner. Pastor Dawn Hanson assisted with the program and emceed the program.

Jill and Dean Johnson have authored an interesting book titled "Little Minnesota...100 towns Around 100". Their research and photography took them all around Minnesota to find and research 100 small towns that have contributed to the culture of Minnesota. The 100 towns had to be incorporated. They explained, "When these town were settled, they each featured at least three things-a bar, a church, and a baseball field. Some of them built schools that are now consolidated with larger town schools. In 1948, Viking was given the title of 'Bachelor capital of Minnesota' because the men outnumbered the women by one hundred to one. The building of the Soo Line railroad also helped to establish little towns along its path." Other towns which they mentioned included Strandquist, Funkley, Trail, Gully, Vining, Tintah, and Sunburg. Their book includes many beautiful and interesting pictures of special places in each of these small towns. It is a well written and documented book.

The book is available at local book stores or can be ordered from area libraries. The authors Jill and Dean Johnson are available to give talks and show slides about their historical project.

The Midwinter Social concluded with a song "Pass It On" about being thankful for food, friends, and mankind.

Science Museum of Minnesota to Bring Hands-On Learning to Clearbrook-Gonvick Elementary on April 6

Clearbrook-Gonvick Elementary is one of 17 schools around the state that was selected to participate in this year's Science Matters program, a partnership between the Science Museum of Minnesota and Flint Hills Resources. As part of Science Matters, 220 students at Clearbrook-Gonvick Elementary will participate in fun, hands-on activities and demonstrations designed to enrich their interest in science through the Science Museum's interactive assembly program.

Science Matters strives to bring science to life for students from all over the state, including those who cannot easily access the museum and its world-class resources. Since 2004, Flint Hills Resources has sponsored the Science Matters program for hundreds of thousands of students from across Minnesota.

Assembly
Instructors from the Science Museum of Minnesota will present Science Matters assemblies at Clearbrook-Gonvick Elementary on April 6 at 9:15 a.m. and 10:15 a.m. Through a visual and interactive presentation on dinosaurs, students in kindergarten, first, and second grades will learn how scientists compare the physical features left behind by dinosaurs in fossils to the animals we know today. These students will uncover fossils from the past and assemble a life-size dinosaur skeleton puzzle.

Students in grades 3-5 will explore what engineers do, what inspires them, and why it is important. These students will investigate how engineers use the design cycle as they approach problems affecting people in today's world.

Overnight Camp-In at the Science Museum

The second part of the Science Matters program includes a "Camp-In" sleeper at the Science Museum of Minnesota. On April 13-14, 90 students from Clearbrook-Gonvick Elementary will travel to Saint Paul for a memorable oppor-

Lloyd Engen called the meeting to order. He explained that the card that was being sent around was for Jim Chesley who had a heart attack Monday evening and is in Bemidji hospital.

Carol Niewinski read the secretaries report and it was approved as read.

Betty Randklev read the treasurers report. There were no questions and it was approved as read.

Upcoming expenses were discussed. The dishwasher is now leaking and it was a concern that part of the floor would need replacing. After inspection, the floor will not need to be replaced; but there are a few cracks that do need to be repaired. A grant will pay for part of the purchase of the dishwasher. The inspector said the island is not a good idea as wood is chipping. He feels the contents in the island storage should be above the island and out in the open.

Amy Dallmann was here with Jerry and Lana Wraa for our Tai Chi lesson after the meeting. Amy is with the Land of the Dancing Sky Area Aging in Detroit Lakes. The Wraas will be back next month for another lesson. If there would be enough interest Amy Dallmann would try to procure a grant to pay the Wraas expenses so that we could have them twice a week for a 12 week period. The purpose of Tai Chi is to improve balance and prevent falls.

Lloyd Engen read a few jokes. Carol Croy won the door prize. Packages of lefse were won by Phyllis Engen, Edna Wraa, Beulah Richards, Jerry Wraa and Beverly Charles. Lana Wraa won a print that Carol Niewinski had donated.

The meeting adjourned at 12:50 p.m. After our Tai Chi lesson lunch was served by Duane and Betty Johnson and Janet Olson.

March Elementary Students of the Month

"Education is the power to think clearly, the power to act well in the world's work, and the power to appreciate life." ~ Brigham Young

Student Name: Erik Preuss, Kindergarten

Parents: John and Alissa Preuss Siblings: James

Comments: Erik is the first student to arrive each day. He is always ready to work and do his best. I really admire his thirst for knowledge, he just can't seem to get enough! I can always depend on him to follow directions quickly and lend a helping hand, without being asked to do so. His classmates voted for him to be our Student of the Month. They seem to appreciate his thoughtful and kind personality as much as I do! One student remarked, "I like Erik because he is nice." Another said, "I like Erik because he always helps clean up, even if he didn't make the mess!" Congratulations Erik!

Student: Cylee Packineau, Grade 1

Parents: Tiffani Packineau (mother) and Cheryl Thunder (grandmother)

Comments: Cylee is a very quiet student in the classroom. She works hard at getting her work done quickly and very neatly. She is very creative. She has worked hard in reading and math this school year.

Keep up the good work Cylee!

Student: Mickaylee Garrigan, Grade 2

Parents: Tiffani Packineau, Randy Garrigan

Comments: Mickaylee is a very hard worker who always tries to do her best at all times. She comes to school prepared with her homework completed and ready for the day. She always has a big smile on her face, and she is excited to learn as much as she can. I can also count on her to help other students if asked. Thanks Mickaylee for having such a positive attitude towards learning. Congratulations on being chosen Student of the month!

Student: Logan Knutson, Grade 3

Parents: Crystal Maxie and Lennie Knutson

Comments: Logan is a steady hard worker. I've had the pleasure of watching him focus on a project and work diligently on it until it is done, and done well. Logan often gets a twinkle in his eye and a smile on his face and it's contagious. We all are blessed by his friendship. Thanks for all your help and your kindness. Keep up the good work!

Student: Derek Roy, Grade 4

Parents: Jenni Zurhorst, Craig Roy Siblings: Craig and Jesslyn

Comments: Derek is a very enthusiastic learner. He is always engaged and willing to participate and share his point of view. His eagerness and curiosity makes him a joy to have in class. Congratulations Derek! Derek is working so hard in our recorder unit--way to go, Derek!!!

Student: Keenan Smith, Grade 5

Parents: Jessie & Crystal Smith Siblings: Lawrence, Autumn, Jazmyn

Comments: Keenan is a very attentive listener! He is very polite in class and always seems wiser than most 5th graders! "Always has a positive attitude!" Keenan is a student that cares about other students and adults. He is a very insightful and caring student that tries his best. Keenan has a way of getting you to smile, even if it's just by him smiling. Keenan likes to be helpful, right down to telling you to drink tea when you're sick and offering to bring tea bags in when you have a cough. It is always a pleasure working with Keenan. He continues to be a hard working, honest, and knowledgeable student that demonstrates good character in and outside of the classroom. Thanks for being you, Keenan.:

Student:Kevin Sumner, Jr. Grade 6

Parents:Victoria Mostrom, Kevin Sumner Sr.

Grandparents: Adrian Omen, Lisa Sumner

Siblings: Sayden, Samiya

Comments: Kevin Sumner has been selected by his peers to be the next Student of the Month. Kevin is new to the district this year and has already made a good impression. Kevin is a good listener in music class! Kevin is a quiet, humble, behind-the-scenes sort of fella. If you look carefully, you will often notice him picking up after his peers or pushing in their chairs for them. He is a very polite and organized student. (One time, the "desk fairy" left him a note and treat for having the neatest desk in the classroom, but he gave it to someone else because he didn't think he had deserved it, as he felt he could have been neater.) His peers describe him as kind, positive, unselfish, willing, funny, friendly, helpful, and enthusiastic. C-G lucked out when they gained a student like Kevin. He is the type of student that we are proud to have represent our school.

9.2 Superintendent Report – Mr. Olson discussed a few items.

1) Sponsoring a Trap Shooting Team – Minimal cost to the District. It meets Title IX. Events are held on the weekends, but the shooting is done onsite and scores are compared. The only travel would occur if the team went to the State Tournament in Alexandria. Surveys show approximately 30 students are interested in participating. We have had several adults indicate interest in coaching the team. Expenses would include: shells, and clay pigeons; however, some individuals/ businesses have expressed interest in donating these items to the sport. Insurance is something the District will need to check into. This needs to be finalized before we continue. In addition, we need to determine where the coach would be placed on the schedule. If the board is interested in supporting this, more information will be provided at a later meeting.

2) Audit Weaknesses – Supt Olson handed out the weaknesses that the auditors discovered during the audit. He discussed the fact that funds cannot remove the money from the student activity fund to be used after they have graduated. Supt Olson advised that we need to phase this in, so that the Junior Class (2018) is made aware of this and therefore, no funds will be leftover at the end of their senior year. 3) Voluntary Pre-School – Supt Olson presented a report showing the costs and potential revenues for the program. He will be submitting an application, and if we receive the funding, we can decide at a later date if we wish to add the program. Funding is only available for 4 year olds as of Sept 1st.

Blastomycosis in Dogs: Has Taken Life in NW Minnesota

Blastomycosis is a systematic yeastlike fungal infection caused by the organism Blastomyces dermatitidis, which is commonly found in decaying wood and soil. Blastomycosis occurs most frequently in male dogs, but female dogs are also susceptible.

Dogs that are frequently exposed to environments where Blastomyces dermatitidis exists are at increased risk.

This is particularly so with large-breed dogs weighing at least 55 lbs (25 kg), and especially sporting breeds. The Blastomyces fungus thrives in wet environments, such as riverbanks, lakes and swamps, where damp soil lacking direct sunlight fosters growth of the fungus. It is also present in areas that are rich in decaying matter, such as wooded areas, forests, and farms. It is a naturally occurring North American fungus, with the highest prevalence of infection taking place in geographic areas located near water -- such as the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, and Tennessee River basins. Studies have concluded that most affected dogs live within at least 400 meters of a body of water.

Symptoms and Types •Fever •Loss of appetite (anorexia) •Weight loss •Eye discharge •Eye inflammation, specifically the iris •Difficulty breathing (e.g., coughing, wheezing and other unusual breathing sounds) •Skin lesions, which are frequently filled with pus Causes Blastomycosis typically occurs when the dog inhales the airborne fungal spores of the genus Blastomyces dermatitidis after the contaminated soil has been disturbed. This can be from an activity as benign as digging in the dirt or following a scent trail. The spores can also enter through the skin. Exposure to areas with water, decaying matter, or recently excavated areas increase the risk of exposure to the fungus and consequent development of the disease.

Treatment Treatment is generally done at home, using oral dosages of an antifungal medication. The medication is relatively expensive and must be administered for a minimum of 60 days, or one month after all signs of blastomycosis have disappeared. Dogs with severe difficulty breathing (a condition known as dyspnea) may require an supplemental oxygen until lung condition has improved. The preferred antifungal at the moment for dogs diagnosed with this infection is Itraconazole, which is better tolerated and has fewer side effects than older antifungal drugs. It is recommend a nutraceutical called quantum nucleotide, which helps to stimulate an immediate immune system reaction, as well as oil of oregano in capsule form, which is excellent support for a body fighting a fungal infection.

In severely prolonged infections, or when medication has not cured the infection, surgery may be necessary in order to remove part of an abscessed lobe in damaged lungs.

Living and Management Continue to give the necessary antifungal medication regularly and limit the dog's physical activities -- this will help it avoid straining its lungs. A high-quality diet to stimulate the dog's appetite is also encouraged.

NOTICE OF BOARD OF AUDIT MEETING

Notice is hereby given to the voters of Holst Township, County of Clearwater, State of Minnesota, that the Holst Township Board of Audit Meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 7th, 2017 at 7:00 pm. Stephanie Anderson Clerk of Holst Township

Sinclair Township Annual Meeting Notice

The Sinclair Township Annual Meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 14, 2017 at 7:00 pm at the Sinclair Town Hall. If inclement weather, meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 21st at 7:00 pm. Please note different time from last year's meeting.

Brooke Pond, Clerk R49-50C

couraged. Chest X-rays can help determine the duration of and response to treatment, and reveal any permanent changes in the lungs that may have resulted from the treatment.

Although the disease is only spread from animals to people through bite wounds, humans may have been exposed to the Blastomyces organism at the same time as pets and should inform their physician if they have breathing problems or skin lesions, which are both good indicators of blastomycosis.

Prevention

This condition often is acquired in environments where decaying wood is found: farms, forests, wooded areas, camps, hunting areas. Decay of other organic material is also conducive to its growth in soil, especially when the soil is not exposed to sunlight and remains damp all the time.

Conversely, the spores may be more likely to go airborne during dry weather, when the contaminated dust is lighter. It is not easy to predict exactly where the Blastomyces organism may be growing, and is thus difficult to avoid entirely.

The only useful recommendation that can be given is to avoid lakes and streams where risk of exposure is greatest. This is, admittedly, an impractical suggestion for most.

This condition is only rarely transmittable from animal to animal, or from animal to human. In the event that transmission does occur, it is when the animal has an open and draining wound, and it comes into contact with an open wound on the human, or the discharge from the animal's wound gets into the humans eye

VA HEALTH CARE CO-PAYS: Some veterans enrolled in VA Health Care pay a small copy for clinic visits and/or prescriptions. This is primarily based on basic income and offsetting medical expenses periodically supplied by the veteran. This same financial means test is used to determine if the veteran is eligible for VA Beneficiary Travel Pay. Tax time is a good time to process and submit a well-documented means test using the previous calendar year information you gather for tax filing. The means test can be accomplished at any County Veterans Service Office.

Alan and Sandy Severts found this painting in an old garage when they bought their place in Long Prairie back in 1964. The picture is by Edward R. Sitzman and is early 20th century. The artist's work has sold for upwards of $9,000, though this specific artwork wasn't given that high of a value. Sandy is pictured with antiques expert, Mark Moran.

Antiques Roadshow star comes to Grygla

By Kari Sundberg, Grygla Eagle

You may recognize Mark Moran from his appearance on the popular PBS series, Antiques Roadshow. He has been an active appraiser of antiques for more than 20 years and has authored and co-authored more than 25 books on antiques and collectibles. Last Wednesday, Mark made a stop at the Grygla Community Center to offer a variety of appraisals to interested guests!

The program was brought to the community by the Northwest Regional Library and was made possible because of the Clean Water, Land and Legacy Amendment. The legacy amendment was passed in 2008 in MN to fund arts and cultural heritage projects. Funding is received by the state (about $50,000/year) to provide programs such as this.

The way the event worked was Mark asked each guest about the object they brought

The attendees seemed to enjoy the fun and educational event!

Clearwater County

DELINQUENT TAX LIST

State of Minnesota
County of Clearwater

District Court
9th Judicial District

TO: ALL PERSONS WITH A LEGAL INTEREST IN THE PARCELS OF REAL PROPERTY DESCRIBED IN THE FOLLOWING DELINQUENT TAX LIST

A list of real property in Clearwater County on which delinquent real property taxes and penalties are due has been filed with the district court administrator of Clearwater County. This list is published to inform all persons that the listed property is subject to forfeiture because of delinquent taxes. The property owner, taxpayer, or other interested persons must either pay the tax and penalty plus interest and costs or file a written objection with the district court administrator. The objection must be filed by March 31, 2017, stating the reason why the tax or penalty is not due on the property. If no objection is filed, a court judgment will be entered against the property for the unpaid tax, penalty, interest, and costs.

For property under court judgment, the period of redemption begins on May 8, 2017. The period of redemption means the time within which taxes must be paid to avoid losing the property through forfeiture. The period of redemption is three years, with a handful of exceptions. The redemption period is one year for most properties located in a targeted neighborhood, as defined in the Minnesota laws, and for municipal solid waste disposal facilities. The redemption period is five-weeks for certain abandoned or vacant properties.

To determine how much interest and costs must be added to pay the tax in full, contact the Clearwater County Auditor-Treasurer's Office, Clearwater County Courthouse, 213 Main Ave. N, Dept. 202, Bagley, MN, 56621. You may also contact the Auditor-Treasurer at (218) 694-6520.

Later, when they were tying the boat to the dock, Knute asked Bjorn, "Did you mark de spot like I told you?"

"Ya," said Bjorn, and he pointed to a small 'x' on the side of the boat.

"You dummy," said Knute, "Vat if ve don't get the same boat tomorrow?"

Moose population remains low

Population statistically unchanged from last year's estimate Minnesota's moose population shows signs of stability when comparing this year's population estimate of 3,710 northeastern Minnesota moose with estimates since 2012, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

"At this point, results do not indicate that moose are recovering in northeastern Minnesota," said Glenn DelGiudice, DNR moose project leader. "While it is encouraging to see that the decline in the population since 2012 has not been as steep, the apparent stability does not allow us to forecast the direction of the population's trajectory into the future."

The 2017 aerial moose survey estimate of 3,710 moose in the northeastern part of the state is statistically unchanged from last year's estimate of 4,020. There is inherent uncertainty associated with survey estimates, because researchers will never see and count all of the animals being surveyed across the vast landscape. Statistically, the DNR is 90 percent certain that the population estimate is between 3,010 and 4,710 moose. The DNR releases an annual moose population estimate each year that can help indicate population trends but cannot predict future population levels.

Each year the population estimate is compared to 2006, because the state's highest moose population estimate of 8,840 occurred that year.
